Also known as the "New Academic Block", the Ramanujan block houses computer labs and classrooms on the ground floor, research labs (MINRO and SRL) on the first floor, along with seminar halls on each floor. It was inaugurated in 2017 and houses the Auditorium and Sports Complex on the 3rd and 2nd Floor respectively. At the front of the Ramanujan Block is "The Thinker's Statue" which is by far the most popular spot for IIT-Bians to get a good photo for their social media accounts. It also has another "Coffee Cove" to make sure students AND faculty never run low on caffeine :)

HOSTELS

BHASKARA

Bhaskara, one of the two boys' hostels, houses around 70 triple sharing rooms on the first 2 floors and 400 single occupancy rooms on the remaining 5 floors. The rooms are well ventilated with two windows per room.

HOLI

GANESH CHATURTHI

Reflecting on the joyous festivities of Ganesh Chaturthi in our college fills us with fond memories. The week-long pooja was a sacred and uplifting experience, with morning and evening bhajans offered to Lord Ganesha, infusing our days with spirituality and devotion. As the culmination approached, anticipation grew, culminating in a grand finale on the last day.

We indulged in delectable modaks, symbolizing the sweetness of our devotion, before joyfully dancing around the campus during the visarjan procession. Ganesh Chaturthi was more than just a celebration; it was a time of unity, spirituality, and pure bliss that left an indelible mark on our hearts. In those moments, we felt a profound connection not only with each other but also with the divine presence of Lord Ganesha, guiding us with his wisdom and blessings.

Step back into the vibrant festivities of our college's Onam celebration! Experience the joyous tapestry of events that made our festivities truly unforgettable. From the meticulously crafted pookolams to the exhilarating competitions like tug of war and blindfolded pot-breaking, Onam brought a wave of excitement to our campus. We enjoyed the musical performance by our college band too.

We vibed to the rhythmic beats of local drummers and danced to the traditional tunes that filled the air.

With laughter, camaraderie, and delicious feasts, our Onam celebration was a cherished moment of unity and joy for all who participated.

ONAM

HARVEST FESTIVALS

The air at IIT-B was filled with festive fervour as students came together to celebrate the vibrant harvest festivals.

The celebration started off with Lohri, and its traditional bonfire whose blazing flames rose 15 feet high. Students adorned in their kurtas and salwars circled around it and found comfort in the blanket of its warmth. The bonfire was followed by a musical night where everyone danced to the Punjabi beats.

The next morning witnessed Makar Sankranti and Pongal celebration starting off with kite flying. The campus was adorned with a myriad of colorful kites, creating a vibrant tapestry against the clear blue sky as students engaged in friendly duels, attempting to cut each other's kites with strategic moves and skillful techniques.

Later at noon, we had the age-old tradition of pot Pongal being prepared live which was later savored by the students in no time.

The Karnataka Rajyotsava celebrations at our college are a vibrant showcase of the state's rich culture and heritage. The festivities kicked off with the performance of the State Anthem by our music club Symphony, along with Prof R Chandrashekhara. The event featured traditional folk dances like Dollu Kunitha and Kamsale, captivating the audience with their rhythmic beats and vibrant costumes.

Adding a modern touch, the IMT2023 boys danced energetically to popular Sandalwood songs, infusing the event with youthful energy. A quiz on Kannada phrases tested non-native students' language skills, while a spirited Lagori game event fostered camaraderie among attendees. The celebrations were a wonderful reflection of Karnataka's spirit, bringing together students in a culturally enriching experience.

LAPTOP GUIDE

Welcome to college life, where the right laptop can make all the difference in your academic journey. Here's everything you need to know to make an informed decision:

- PROCESSOR : Choose between Intel i5, i7, AMD Ryzen 5 (R5), and Ryzen 7 (R7). While i5 or R5 will suffice for most college tasks, opting for i7 or R7 will make computationally heavy tasks easier and faster, ideal for compiling software, editing videos, and working with large databases.
- RAM : Opt for at least 8GB of RAM for smooth multitasking, such as creating documents, basic gaming, and streaming movies. Consider upgrading to 16GB for tasks like streaming HD movies, basic photo and video editing, and gaming.
- STORAGE : Decide between HDD and SSD. HDD is suitable for storing large files like films and music, while SSD offers faster boot and loading times, ideal for graphic files, games, and heavy-duty programs. Consider using an SSD with an external HDD for maximum flexibility.
- GRAPHICS : Choose between Integrated Graphics for everyday use and Dedicated Graphics for tasks like gaming, video editing, and design work.
- SCREEN SIZE : Opt for 14-16 inches for portability and usability, suitable for professionals, students, and entry-level gamers. Consider 17-19 inches for high-end gaming, graphic design, and multimedia tasks.

- ADDITIONAL FEATURES : Pay attention to body material for durability and aesthetics. Ensure a battery life of over 6 hours, especially for long college days. Gaming laptops may have shorter battery life.

Armed with this knowledge, you're ready to find the perfect laptop companion for your college adventures. Happy shopping!

MACBOOK

If you don't have any interest in gaming and have a budget >80k, an M1 equipped MacBook Air is the best choice for college work!

SOME OF THE BEST FEATURES OF M1 MACS :

- MacOS has a UNIX based environment which is perfect for coding and development purposes hence you will not need to dual boot your device with a linux installation like linux users.
- It has an extremely good battery life. It lasts for a complete day (13-15 hrs, even more if you get the M2 or pro versions) on a single charge.
- As of now none of the students with the M1 and M2 macs have had any software compatibility issues.
- The M1 and M2 processors are currently few of the industry leading processors. This translates to faster app build times, seamless video editing experience and an overall smooth experience.
- It's integrated Graphics Card (= NVIDIA 1650 MaxQ in terms of raw performance) is also very capable for all the graphic heavy softwares.
- It's screen resolution and color accuracy gives a better experience in fields of graphic designing and content creation. A sharper screen with 16:10 also permits displaying multiple lines of code on a single page.

- It has a 400/500(400 For the M1 and 500 For the M2) nits display panel which allows outdoor usage.
- It has an extremely smooth UI and is very addictive once you switch (disclaimer to your pockets lol).

SOME THINGS TO KNOW BEFORE BUYING A MAC:

- Do NOT buy the intel equipped mac (go for M1 or M2, even between these 2 options, M1 is more than sufficient for the work that will be done in the institute. M3 is obviously great too, but definitely not necessary considering your use case in college.)
- The MacBook Pro doesn't have a significant advantage over Air, So, instead of spending more for a Pro, you can use your budget in buying an Air with upgraded storage and RAM options.
- Buy it from the official website with the student discount offer.
- Storage is non expandable but the college provides 1 TB of cloud storage.
- RAM in base models of MacBook Air (both M1 and M2) is 8GB non expandable but it is more than enough.
- Lack of ports might act as an issue as only 2 type C ports in are available in the current generation of macs (late 2020) but you can always buy a multi-port adapter.
- There may be some softwares which have different functionality which may require some extra research and effort.

VISTORS

Timings on regular days for visitors to the campus are between 10 AM and 7 PM. Nobody except the students are allowed to be in the hostel rooms at any time during their stay at IIIT-B. This ensures the privacy and safety of you and the students around you.

FIRST YEAR IS CHILL!

My experience as a first-year student at IIT-Bangalore was genuinely chill. The professors are great at what they teach and very helpful as well. I found the curriculum well-structured, with hardly any courses feeling like a waste of time. If you play your cards right you can easily balance both academics and extra-curriculars while enjoying every moment.

Although IIT-B does offer a challenging academic environment, the placements make it all worth it (I'm sure that's what got you intrigued in our humble little college). The high-quality curriculum and research-oriented approach will make you very exhausted but employable. Our small, well knit community is very laid-back and supportive, fostering insightful senior-junior interactions. Everyone here is welcoming and always ready to help. Additionally, the campus offers top-notch faculty, and the caliber of your batch mates will inspire you.

A teaspoon of advice from me: definitely make friends and go out! Bangalore is a great city to explore. Engage in as many club activities and other festivities around the campus as you can, like just get out of your room please; It's your first year, so make the most of it (who needs sleep anyway?). Also, for guys, you will be sharing your room with two others, so bathe regularly, be hygienic, and take care of others' personal space. Most importantly, make stories worth remembering!

- Jayant Sharma (IMT2023)

FIRST YEAR IS CHILL!

IIIT-B's first year might not have been the most "chill" experience academically, but the camaraderie, friendly pranks, and the life skills learned, made it an unforgettable adventure. Between pulling all-nighters for projects, navigating the hostel's ahem... interesting culinary adventures, and exploring Bangalore's hidden gems... a bond stronger than any compiler error message formed.

We may have committed a few blunders here and there, but the memories we made and the support system built will stay with us forever. As it would for you too.

I won't lie, the academics might get a little rigorous, but constant guidance from professors and an active campus life made it easier. In our time here, the limited campus space is more of a boon than a bane. And you could live in delulu of thinking the whole electronic city is your campus, but that's just me. Also, birthday celebrations here will be legendary.

I would just say embrace the challenge, it won't be as hard as jee but it's another kind of challenge. For most of you, it would be your first time away from home and on your own. So try to explore more things other than the library. I can guarantee you will make some life long friends and unforgettable memories here.

- Kanav Bhardwaj (IMT2023)

FIRST YEAR IS CHILL!

I made many amazing friends. It is very easy to bond with people here. This campus offers many opportunities to be explored. So, get ready to dive in and enjoy every moment of this incredible journey. I always wanted to explore my inner self and IIIT-B has provided me with ample opportunities through various clubs like Turiya and Dhruva to do the same.

Trust me, it's all worth it! I had a blast in my first year. College is my second home and people over here are family now. The vibrant community and supportive faculty make it an absolute gem.

My advice to you future stars would be to embrace every moment, step out of your comfort zone, and don't be afraid to chase your dreams. College is all about new beginnings, so make the most of it! Remember, you're not alone so, lean on your peers, soak up knowledge from your mentors, and enjoy the ride. Can't wait to welcome you to our incredible community!

- Mannat Kaur (IMT2023)

FIRST YEAR IS CHILL!

To be honest the first year was pretty relaxing, though the academics were pretty tight, It was enjoyable and vibrant. We had an event almost every other day, which kept us occupied and I made some great companions along the way who never made me feel homesick.

As a state level table tennis player, I was extremely skeptical regarding the sports facilities, but they were up-to date and really well maintained. Besides that, the hostels are also far better than what I was expecting; they are clean, new, and hygienic, definitely not as depicted in movies.

Try not to stress yourself too much, but don't let the newfound freedom get to you. Try to maintain a balance between studies and co-curriculars. You would also get a great chance to brush up on some sports which you would have lost touch of during the JEE phase. Hope to see you soon :)

- Jayesh Pandit (IMT2023)

FIRST YEAR IS CHILL!

My first year experience in college was nothing less than a roller coaster ride, it was very thrilling, especially right after our jee preparation phase. I personally love dancing and I am part of the dance club - Impulse. We also formed a dance troupe dedicated to first-years called Kanya Rasi. The perfect balance between academics and co-curriculars really helped me spend time on myself and my hobbies.

Despite being skeptical initially about coming here, all my doubts were blown away as soon as college started. The community is extremely friendly and supportive, with approachable seniors and understanding faculty and staff. Despite there being a lesser number of girls, we get a lot of opportunities and are involved in all the happenings of the college. Our batch-mates are very friendly and approachable as well, which made me always comfortable with the environment. You do get lots of assignments and quizzes, but it's fun preparing them with everyone sitting together as a group and working as one cohesive unit.

To the juniors coming fresh into college, participate in as many activities as you can, don't hold yourself back as this is the time to explore and branch out. Talk to people and grow your network. Try out new things and know that we always have your back. Can't wait to interact with you all in person :)

- Harshita Bansal (IMT2023)

FIRST YEAR IS CHILL!

The only thing you need to remember in first year is that it is the time you're going to make many new friends which will (hopefully) last you the next 5 years, so go and socialise, you won't get the same time again. (Also, you'll need this time to recover from JEE trauma, so put hardcore studying aside for a while, and enjoy your new-founded freedom.)

The campus is inclusive of everything you ever need, from gym to the library to basketball and volleyball courts. It's up to you to make sure that everything is utilized. You would think a campus of 8.8 acres is small, but when you don't need to walk 1 km to the mess you'll realise that this campus size is a boon.

Keep in touch with your seniors because they will be the ones guiding you through the whole process of induction and getting used to the college. SOCIALISING IS A TOP PRIORITY. Also, do NOT limit yourself to small friend groups. Go out there and make connections with everyone (including staff). Find new hobbies and take part in all competitions you can. All the best!

- Darsh Veer Singh (IMT2023)
